

This is just a quick message to remind you about our upcoming Applicant Event running next week from Tuesday 14th July – Thursday 16th July.

Students do not need to book onto the event, instead they are able to simply click on any of the Zoom webinar links that interest them and tune in as a viewer. The event is different from our previous virtual open event and is designed for students to meet our campus and curriculum teams and become more familiar with what life would look like as an Askham Bryan student.

Links for all the sessions can be found via: <https://www.askham-bryan.ac.uk/whats-on/virtual-open-event-1>

Secondly, I am pleased to announce that we have also now put together our 'Jump Start to Study' activities for students to engage with over summer. These are focussed on giving students something to listen to, read, watch, and do in relation to their new course, over the summer.

Many thanks,
Calum
